

Improve your Danish pronunciation

Summer holiday offer for both beginners and experienced speakers of Danish

If you struggle with getting the hang of the Danish soft d, if you keep mistaking the endless number of Danish vowels with one another, or if you just feel like Danes keep asking "Hvad?" whenever you try to communicate with them – we have a solution for you: Come spend four lessons in July improving your Danish pronunciation.

Content of the course

In the class, we will be working on the Danish sounds – especially the sounds of the vowels, but also the sounds of the consonants.

We will practice the consonants separately – eg. how does r, l, and ng sound – and how the consonants sound when put together – for instance, skr... (as in skriver/skræmme/skrælle). Furthermore, we will be practicing stress (in Danish: tryk) and rhythm in Danish – what you could call the melody of the language.

We will make sure the teaching fits your needs, therefore we will locate the areas where you have trouble with Danish pronunciation. Along with that, we will be playing with the Danish sounds and with old Danish tongue twisters and nursery rhymes.

Structure of the course

2x2 lessons in week 27 (July 5-9th) on either Monday and Wednesday or Tuesday and Thursday.

Price

The course costs 600 kr.
